ABOUT US

MaiJazz started in 1989 – a well-known jazz festival in Norway and one of the Stavanger region's biggest cultural events and an important part of local cultural life. In collaboration with Stavanger Jazzforum, MaiJazz aim to develop and contribute to increased interest for jazzmusic in the Stavanger region.

MaiJazz startet in 1989 and is one of the Stavanger region's oldest festivals. From the small beginning until today, the festival has grown solid and great. MaiJazz has become one of the leading recurring cultural events in the Stavanger region. Like most cultural projects, MaiJazz also had a challenging start, and it was not a given that we would succeed. We can safely say that the festival is the result of a strong interaction between skilled artists, passionate volunteers, supportive politicians, loyal sponsors and, not least, an ever-growing and competent audience. Everyone has, in their own way, played a decisive role in developing the festival into one of the country's leaders in its category. MaiJazz is keen to play a role in the exciting development and challenges facing the Stavanger region.

One of Sweden's former Ministers of Culture, Bengt Göransson once said: "Culture is a source of deepening, insight and commitment – laying the foundation for social participation and democracy. Insight can change people who in turn can change their surroundings and the world". MaiJazz will contribute to music enjoyment, insight, and reflection. But of course, also for good entertainment, good experiences, and life in the city. We have contributed to the region with artists such as Jan Garbarek, Pat Metheney Group, Herbie
